

APA Style uses an author-date citation system, so when you reference someone else's work, you need to reference that work in the in-text citation and the reference list. This resource focuses on articles, books, book chapters, reports and internet resources -websites, videos and Generative AI. This resource is a guide only; you will need to confirm assignment-specific referencing requirements with your lecturer or tutor. For more APA 7 information, refer to the APA 7 guide.

Reference List

In your reference list, you usually include, in this order: Author's name, Date, Title, Source

Generic example – Journal article with 2 authors	Specific example – Journal article with 2 authors
FamilyName, Initial(s)., & FamilyName, Initial(s). (Year). Title of article: Subtitle starts here. Journal Title , volume number(issue number), page–page. DOI or URL if available	Grant, A. J., & Sattler, E. (2023). Exploring the effects of caffeine on memory retention: Implications for academic performance. Journal of Cognitive Research , 15(3), 45–59. https://doi.org/10.1016/j.jcr.2023.03.004

Reference list tips

- Put in alphabetical order by the first author's family or organisation name, or by title
- Format each reference as a left-justified, double-spaced, and apply a hanging indent
- Use appropriate reference format (e.g., journal article) and not how you found it (e.g., online)

Reference list authors

- Authors can be individuals or organisations.
- For a single-author entry, list the family name and initials, and for two authors, include both authors' names, using an ampersand (&).
- When there are 21 or more authors, include the first 19 names followed by "..." and then the name of the final author.

Grant, A. J., Sattler, E., Malcolm, I. C., Patel, S. R., Wong, T. L., Nguyen, D. H., O'Connor, B. L., Kim, Y. J., Zhao, X., Fernandez, M. A., Bennett, C. J., Harris, N. T., Li, W., Evans, G. D., Clarke, R. J., Hughes, F. S., Thompson, P. E., Ahmed, L. R., Romano, J. K., ... Robinson, K. M. (2023). Exploring the effects of caffeine on memory retention: Implications for academic performance. Journal of Cognitive Research, 15(3), 45–59. <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.jcr.2023.03.004>

In-text citations

In an in-text citation, the family name, followed by the year of publication and enclosed in brackets.

Generic example 1	Generic example 2
It has been claimed that ... (FamilyName, Year)	FamilyName claims that (Year)...

Direct quotation – short (less than 40 words)

Copy the text from the source and put it in double quotation marks ("..."), and put in an in-text reference with page number/s

(FamilyName, 2025, p. 123)	(FamilyName, 2025, pp. 123-127)	(FamilyName, 2025, pp. 123, 125)

Direct quotation – block (longer than 40 words)

Use the copied text without quotation marks, indented, and accompanied by an in-text reference including a page number.

FamilyName (2025, p. 123) states that:

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Maecenas porttitor congue massa. Fusce posuere, magna sed pulvinar ultricies, purus lectus malesuada libero, sit amet commodo magna eros quis urna. Nunc viverra imperdiet enim.

In-text citation tips

- For three or more authors, include the first familyName only and then et al. E.g. (Author's family name et al., 2025)
- When citing multiple sources within a single set of parentheses, list citations alphabetically and separate with semicolons (e.g., Brown, 2003; Ng, 2009; Smith, 2001).
- When repeating a citation, show the entire citation. Do not use ibid or Op.Cit.

Internet resources - Generative AI
Generic example	Specific example
AICompanyName. (Year, Month Day). Title of chat [Generative AI chat]. Tool Name/Model. URL of the chat	OpenAI. (2025, September 15). University Study topics Australia [Generative AI chat]. ChatGPT. https://chatgpt.com/share/68c77280-dd14-8002-9302-220e3c56883c
Further information
• Use the AI software version release date as the date, or if can't find, use the date you generated the output as the version date • Always defer to your course coordinator and university guidelines when using Generative AI for assessment tasks. • Results of a GenAI "chat" are not retrievable by other readers, and, although non-retrievable data or quotations in APA Style papers are usually cited as personal communications, with GenAI-generated text, there is no person communicating. Quoting ChatGPT's text from a chat session is, therefore, more like sharing an algorithm's output; thus, credit the author of the algorithm with a reference list entry and the corresponding in-text citation.

Internet resources - Websites
Generic example	Specific Example
FamilyName, Initial(s). OR Organisation (Year, Month Day). Title of webpage . Title of website. URL	World Health Organization. (2023, October 12). Mental health in emergencies . https://www.who.int/news-room/fact-sheets/detail/mental-health-in-emergencies
Further information
• If no author (individual or corporate), use the title of the document and then the date • Don't use the copyright date for the date, use "n.d." if there is no other date available. • Include retrieval date if information will change: Retrieved Month Day, Year, from URL
